ATTRACTIONS FOR COMING STATE FAIR

Sullivan May Be Among the Features.

Notice was received Thursday aftervice-president of the Utah State Fair association, to the effect that the the days of the State fair next October, and would constitute and attractive and and would constitute and attractive and prominent part of the public entertainment at the fair. The outfit, composed of a number of braves and their squaws, will come to Salt Lake City in wagons and on horses, and will set up a camp on the fair grounds on the first day of the exhibition. Every the first day of the exhibition. Every morning they will parade the city, exhibiting themselves in full regalla and passing through the principal streets. During the afternoon they will conduct pony races and other feats of daring, strength and skill. In the evening the great feature of the affair will be carried out in the presentation of a real Indian pow-wow, at which there will be a war dance of the braves in war paint and feathers, and many other features, showing some of the customs of the aboriginals of the great West.

The entertainment is said to be one of the most attractive and instructive ever given, and the management has expressed great satisfaction at having secured this feature of the free shows at the fair.

Already the various delegations are all odder.

The morning session was opened by Grand Master E. C. Tumilin of Denver. The address of welcome was delivered by the Rev. J. C. Allen of the Calvary Baptist church of Salt Lake City. Another attraction has also been secured in the big-footed wonder from North Dakota, called "Gec-Nee," whose feet are twenty-eight inches long. Letters have also been received by Horace Ensign, secretary of the State Fair association, from John L. Sullivan, requesting the opportunity for an exhibition here. The attraction will include several taken in the nature of a monologue, besides a boxing match between the famous prize-fighter and his sparring partner, Jake Kilrain. The letter states that the ex-pugilist has been fulfilling engagements for the past 165 weeks, and that during that time he has not drank a drop of liquor, and gives some details of how it feels to be on the water wagon. #### EASTERN INVESTORS SEEK SALT LAKE REALTY

Something of the attention Salt Lake real estate is attracting from Eastern investors may be seen from the fact that members of the financial committee of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company, who have been in this city for the past three days, have decided to place a number of large loans on real property here John Humphieya, secretary, and H. W. Bender, financial agent of the company, with their wives, have been making a four of the country and srrived here the first of the week from Yellowstone park They made an examination of the principal points of interest about this city and left Thursday night for a visit to Denver, after which they will proceed to their hames in the East. While here they were entertained by Will G. Farrell, looff manager for the company, were taken to Salinit and the other reserts about and for the company, were taken to ir and the other resorts about, and preday evening were given an informal ner at the Commercial club. The following representatives of the Underwriters association called at the Knutsford, Thursday, and extended the compliments of the Utah association to the representatives of the Eastern company: John D. Spencer of the New York Late, Labella Meltzer of the Metropolitam, M. L., Robinson of the Home Life of New York, Rudolph Konold of the Pheenix Mutual, and Will G. Farrell of the Penn Mutual.

GEN. MORTON COMPLIMENTS UTAH NATIONAL GUARD

Adjt.-Gen. Wedgwood of the Utah National Guard has just received a commendatory letter from Brigadier Gen. Charles Morton on the con-duct of the Utah National Guard while at Camp Emmet Crawford dur-ing the first ten days of the present month. Gen. Morton is the command-ing officer of the army maneuvers at Camp Emmet Crawford. The letter, in full is as follows:

On the departure of the troops of your State from this camp, it gives me pleasthe to express to you my sincere appreciation of their good conduct and soldierly hearing. Their deportment while here was a credit to the State and to the Organizations to which they belong.

I trust that their stay here, brief though it was, has proved a benefit to them and tended to strengthen the bonds of sympathy and good fellowship which should always exist between the troops of the National Guard and those of the regular service.

JAMES LEARY NOT LIABLE FOR SEWER FARM RENT

James Leary will not have to pay that $1000, which has been charged up to him for four years' rental of the sewer favm, if the recommendation of the City Attorney and Ensineering committee prevaile, as it doubtless will. Mr. Leary's lease expired in March, 1967, and the Engineering committee, prior to that time, had decided that he owed the city nothing, in view of the fact that the newer farm and been so frequently flooded by water used in flushing the sewer that it was impossible for Mr. Leary's tenants to produce anything upon it. Aside from flus, Mr. Leary has expended considerable money in repairs that the city would have been liable for.

Mr. Leary appeared before the Engineering committee Thursday evening, stated his came, and was told by the City Attorney and committee to go and sin no more. James Leary will not have to pay that —Invitations to visit various sections of the country and defiver speeches came thick and fast today upon W. J. Bryan California's request for a visit again was pressed upon him, with the result that the Democratic candidate is giving the matter serious consideration. Readville, Mass., wants him there August 25 to witness the trotting derby, the first event of the kind, it is said, ever to occur in the United States. Assurances were given that there would be no gambling or pool selling, but as Mr. Bryan on that day will be in Indianapolis, a fact which A. C. Drinkwater, a member of the notification committee, overlooked when extending the invitation, he of course was compelled to decline.

CITIES OF MANY STATES ASK BRYAN TO MAKE THEM VISIT

FAIRVIEW, LINCOLN. Neb., Aug. 13.

Through Henry C. Clayton and R. H. Walker, Mantgomery, Ala, expressed its desire for his presence August 19. Mr. Bryan expressed a desire to again go South. He said that he always had been cordislity received there and was greatly indebted to the Southern people for their uniform support and kindness, but that the campaign was too young at this time for him to make any definite plans as to what his engagements shall be on that date. He heped that after a conference with the national committee he might be able to go to Montgomery and possibly some other points in the Southern States.

A notable incident of the day was the presentation to Mr. Bryan by several hundred farmers from Otoe county, Nebraska, of a "big-stick" gourd, grown in that State. It is about five feet in length, and easily might be taken for the original, if there ever was one, which has been so generally caricatured. It bore the inscription, "Biffy's Big Stick," painted in large, black letters. Mr. Bryan, although expressing his thanks for the gift, declared that if he was elected to the presidency the "big stick" would not be wielded, rather relying on his ability to lead people through their love than to control them through their love than to control them through their fears.

Notwithstanding that a great number of holdover visitors to the notification came out to Fairview, Mr. Bryan found time to dispose of considerable correspondence and make good progress with the speeches he intends to deliver at Indianapolis and elsewhere.

Chairman Clayton, upon leaving the Bryan home, expressed himself in a statement given out for publication as having been delighted with the large and enthuslastic attendance of the people upon the notification yesterday.

Lawrence Smith, a youthful pugillst, charged with assault and battery upon Emil Knudson, four years younger, was discharged in Judge Diehl's court Thursday morning upon the defense's abowing that Knudson threw rocks at him, and threateningly flourished a knife in proximity to his nose. It was another one of Judge Diehl's now famous "summer cases" and upon Assistant County Attorney Aaron Myers's motion that the case be dismissed it went out of court. Shaking with anger, the Knudson boy's grandmother jumped up and, threateningly pointing her finger at the court declared that her grandson had not received justice and that the case would be appealed to a higher court. Judge Diehi unwisely tried to stop the deluge of words, but failed. When the irate woman ran down, the court administered a stern lecture upon how to rear children properly, and caustically commented upon the Knudson lad's testimony to the effect that he threw stones at young Smith for ten minutes. #### CHIEF GLORE HAS A PATENT FIRE DEVICE

W. H. Glore, Sait Lake City's new fire chief, is the inventor of a fire extinguisher which, he thinks, will be universally used some day. Chief Glore at one time was a student of hydraulica and patented his device in 1965, following close, hard study on the project.

The frequent difficulty in fighting fires is the lack of pressure. Chief Glore's invention has for one of its purposes the reducing of friction, thereby reclaiming pressure which is lost in this way. His invention is also so arranged that it will throw a sheet of water in one or three directions at the same time.

The apparatus is cylindrical and is arranged to be attached to a wagon or truck. On one side are several valves made to allow water to enter, but not to escape the way it came. From the valves the water is forced into a receptacle and held in by high pressure. By the turning of the cylindrical receptacle the water is thrown into any or all of a series of escape nozzles at the top of it. Three notzles throw a sheet of water upward with great force.

of escape nozzles at the top of it. Three nozzles throw a sheet of water upward with great force, three others throw a similar wall of water to the right, and still three others to the left. The pressure from friction is not lost in the cylinder, Chief Glore maintains, which increases the effectiveness of the apparatus, especially in coping with fires in high buildings.

PREFERS DEATH TO A LIFE OF AGONY

ipon the neck, which caused him unbearable agony, C. J. Christensen, a Dane, locked himself in the Anderson rooming house, 66 Commercial street. Thursday afternoon and committed suicide by hanging.

Christensen was observed to enter his room about 10 o'clock Thursday morning. He had carefully concealed his intentions and this was the last time he was seen alive. Bringing forth a small rope that he had obtained for the purpose, he secured one end to the top door hinge, and making a noose in the other, slipped it over his head and around his neck. Then he drew his feet from under him and dropped toward the floor. The noose, a slip knot, tightened about his heck and slowly strangled him to death.

His dying agonies evidently were not greater than the pain he already had suffered, for there was nothing to indicate that he had made an effort to release the rope from his throat, nor any indications of a death struggle. The afflicted man chose death's sting rather than life with its prolonged, indescribable agony.

The precise time of Christensen's sui-he hung himself about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. His inanimate body was found by Mrs. Bettle Anderson, proprieter of the lodging house, about 7 o'clock that eventing. The lifeless form, suspended from the top of the door, was a great shock to her. As soon as she recovered she notified the police.

Policeman Harry Curran arrived first and then came Patrolman Pitts. He was followed by Sergeant J. H. Johnstone and the three then cut the body down and it was taken to O'Donnell's undertaking parlors, where it now lies.

Christensen was 52 years old and had not a relative in this country. Whether he loaves relatives in his native land, Denmark, is unknown. He was unmarried and worked for the Utah Light and Railway company as a track foreman up until a year or so ago. At one time he was an inmate of the county infirmary but friends became interested in his case and a Sait Lake physician offered to treat him free of charge, so he was taken from the institution and placed in a local hospital, but the treatment availed nothing and his case was given up as hopeless. The growth was in the nature of a hospital, but the treatment availed nothing and his case was given up as hopeless. The growth was in the nature of a cancer, causing unendurable pain, and Christensen frequently was heard to prefer death to life to escape the agony. Christensen died penniless. He had been in penury for three or four years, but Mrs. Anderson charitably kept him most of that time free of charge. The only relative he had in this country, a brother, died here about a year ago. The functal has not been arranged.

COULD NOT IDENTIFY HIS ASSAILANTS

When the fifty firemen were lined up before him Thursday, Gottfried Schone, the German, falled to identify the four whom he claimed assaulted him in the alleyway back of the police station Tuesday night and robbed him of 33, so the case was dropped. As the street lights were out on account of the electrical storm that swept Salt Lake that night it would have been a physical impossibility for Schone to have leientified his assallants. The police believe that he was drugged in a saloon and beaten and robbed by thugs instead of by firemen.

The Light That Failed.

Seeing a light burning in the basement of Howard Garrett's residence, 182

North First West street, which is vacant while the family is on a pleasure trip, neighbors feared that burglars were ransacking the place Thursday night and sent in an alarm to the police station, to which Lieutenant Dick Shannon and a wagonload of armed policemen responded but nothing was missing and the house had not been disturbed, so the mystery of the burning light still remains unsolved.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar-proof vaults of the Salt Lake Security and Trust company, 32-34 Main street, $3.50 per year.

Assaulted a Negro. Assaulted a Negro.

Cal Henry, a negro living at the American house. Thursday swore to a complaint charging Dick Hawkins, Ollie Smith, Eddle White and Howard Lawrence with battery. Henry says that Smith invited him from Bombino's saloon into the street Tuesday night and there all four set upon and beat him, knocking him down and cutting his jaw and lips. He knows of no motive for the assault.

Pay of Garbage Haulers.

Pay of Garbage Haulers.

The matter of increasing the pay of garbage haulers from 7 cents to 73 cents per 100 pounds came before the Sanitary committee of the City Council Thursday evening, but it went over for one week to give the Health Commissioner an opportunity to report upon the wages drawn by the men during the present week at the old rate.
